Dear Friends,

Planning is the pillar of approach to growth and development. The fertiliser sector has been making plans for numerous areas, including, production, import, inventory, transportation, storage, promotion and extension, etc., for sub serving the prime objective of making fertilisers available to the farmers in right quantity, at the right time, and at right places. The industry has to meet various challenges under the emerging scenario. There are challenges of maximisation of domestic production, import planning, logistic planning, marketing challenges, pricing & subsidy issues, etc.

The foundation of planning is based on the strength of the existing information base, analysis of data and adoption of appropriate methodologies for future projections. In formulating policy decisions, it is essential to have realistic projections relating to fertiliser demand, supply, import requirement and various other related factors. There is also the need for knowledge in business intelligence, marketing research, application of effective tools for production and procurement planning, Indian and global fertiliser demand, prospects of speciality fertilisers and micronutrients for balanced fertilisation, etc.

With this background, FAI will organise a programme on 'Business Intelligence, Forecasts and Planning for the Fertiliser Sector' in The Riverview Retreat - Corbett Resort (Leisure Hotels Group), Ramnagar, Nainital (Uttarakhand) during 10th - 13th June, 2018 for the professionals under various disciplines, including, technical, marketing, finance, production, promotion, logistics, agricultural services, HR, etc.

We request you to send the nominations from your organization at the earliest to take advantage from this programme. The preliminary programme, nomination form and other details are given herewith.

We look forward to your early reply and favourable response.

Satish Chander
Director General

ABOUT JIM CORBETT NATIONAL PARK

Jim Corbett National Park is the oldest national park in India. The park named for the hunter and conservationist Jim Corbett who played a key role in its establishment. It was established in 1921 as Hailey National Park situated in Nainital district of Uttarakhand, the park acts as a protected area for the critically endangered Bengal tiger of India, the secure survival of which is the main objective of Project Tiger, an Indian wildlife protection initiative. The Jim Corbett National Park is a heaven for the adventure seekers and wildlife adventure lovers alike. The Corbett National Park has been the hot favourite getaway for the tourists, wildlife fans, and adventure seekers since many years. However, only a few selected regions of the Corbett Tiger Reserve are open for the tourists to explore its spectacular scenery and the varied wildlife. Corbett National Park is India's first national park which comprises 520.8 km² area of hills, riverine belts, marshy depressions, grass lands and large lake.

WEATHER

Weather around Jim Corbett National Park during June is normally pleasant. The temperature during summer varies between 20°C and 40°C. This period is perfect for animal sighting.
